

U. S. DISPENSARY

Describes the Principal Ingredients Contained in Peruna.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensary says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydnastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensary says of this herb remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice, (catarrh of the liver) and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensary as a tonic. So also is cubeba classed as a stomachic and as a tonic for the mucous membranes.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensary says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensary as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

NEED OF STANDARD WEIGHTS.

Wheat Sold by 20 Different Measures in Great Britain.

The advocates of the metric system want no better justification than that which has been furnished by the year book of the British Auctioneers' Institute.

It is learned from this that the price of wheat is made and the cereal is sold in 20 different ways in England, Scotland and Wales.

It is measured variously by the quarter, comb, load, bush, barrel, hundredweight, cental, windle and hobber. Further confusion is caused by varying weights of a bushel in different parts of the country.

A boll is three bushels in some places and four and six in others. There are similar absurd variations in other weights and measures.

For instance, a stone of meat is eight pounds, a stone of iron 14 pounds, a stone of cheese 16 pounds and a stone of hemp 32 pounds.

There are seven different areas of the standard acre in Great Britain. The vagaries of liquid measures are equally bewildering.

Stimulate the Blood. Brandreth's Pills are the great blood purifier. They are a laxative and blood tonic, they act equally on the bowels, kidneys and skin, thus cleansing the system by the natural outlet of the body. They stimulate the blood so to enable nature to throw off all morbid humors and cure all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood. One or two taken every night will prove an invaluable remedy.

Each pill contains one grain of solid extract of sarsaparilla, which, with other valuable vegetable products, make it a blood purifier unexcelled.

Brandreth's Pills have been in use for over a century, and are for sale everywhere, plain or sugar-coated.

Disease Puzzles Doctors. A mysterious disease is troubling the Dutch medical profession. It has broken out in the district of Oudorp, not far from Utrecht, and Prof. Spronck, of Utrecht, after all the best efforts he can devise, has had to confess himself perplexed. The disease is a contagious affection of the heart, and the patients invariably develop high fever. There have been more than 100 cases. Prof. Spronck has made a careful analysis of blood taken from patients, but has utterly failed to find a cause or an origin for the epidemic.

California's Prune Crop. California's prune crop in 1906, was 185,000,000 pounds, against 62,500,000 pounds in 1905. This has only been exceeded once in 17 years. That was in 1902, when the crop was 197,000,000.

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other makes.

Knockers get big audiences, but no gate receipts.

Missouri Legislature

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Representative Noyes introduced a bill providing that the warden of the penitentiary should supply each convict with, once a week, with stationery and postage for correspondence with his family or friends, and that the letters should be neither opened nor read by the prison authorities. After three months' confinement, if the prison record of the convict is good, he is to be supplied with such stationery twice weekly if he desires it.

Senator Kinney's bill enabling St. Louis to secure an art museum passed to the stage of engrossment in the senate, as did the Prudential subway bill. These bills will be on the calendar for third reading by the latter part of the week.

Senator McAllister's bill removing the age limit from the parole law was passed Thursday morning. Under the law as it stands today no one over 25 years of age convicted of crime can have the benefit of the parole. The measure passed provides that any one of previous good character can be paroled on first conviction, in the discretion of the judge.

Senator Gardner's bill fixing the term of justices of the peace appointed by the county court was passed. It provides that magistrates of this kind who owe their office to appointment of the county court shall not hold longer than the day of the general election in the year in which the justices shall be elected for the township in which they reside. There has never been any definite time fixed by the statutes for the term of justices affected by the bill.

These bills were passed by the house, all of them having their origin in that body. Requiring railroads to cut the weeds and brush from their right of way; the extension of special road districts; providing for an increase in county taxes; providing for process in actions to determine or define title to real estate; giving the defendant right to preliminary examination.

The maximum freight rate bill was taken up in the senate again for the purpose of perfecting it by restoring class J to the schedule. Last week, in amending the bill so as to eliminate coal from its provisions, all the rest of class J which includes coal was stricken out, and it was necessary to further delay it until it could be perfected. The bill was made a special order for Saturday.

Senator Avery's sleeping car rate bill was taken up and passed by the senate. It fixes the rates on sleeping cars in Missouri as follows: On distances under 200 miles, $1.50 for lower and $1.25 for upper berths; on distances between 200 and 400 miles, $2.00 for lower and $1.75 for upper. With the exception of the difference between the uppers and the lowers, this is exactly the schedule that the Pullman company has placed in force since this bill was introduced at the opening of the session.

A bill introduced by Senator Gilmore amending the law relating to the malicious destruction of or injury to boats and vessels and other property by adding to the existing law the injury or destruction of any railroad property, was passed by the senate. The senate passed the Gilmore bill providing that depositions may be taken in shorthand and afterward written out and signed by the witness. The senate court on criminal jurisdiction agreed to report unfavorably on the McAllister bill placing clubs under the dramshop law and placing the Sunday bill on them.

Gov. Folk will not make any appointment at present to fill the vacancy on the circuit court bench of Jackson county, caused by the death of Judge W. B. Teasdale. Judge Seehorn, who was appointed by the governor, at the request of Judge Teasdale, to serve during the illness of the latter, will continue to serve until such time as an appointment shall be made.

HOUSE.

The house engaged for a time Thursday in the passage of bills originating in that body. Among those which received its sanction were the anti-trust bills introduced by Representative Hill of Butler, in the preparation of which the assistance of Attorney General Hadley was had. Not a dissenting vote was returned against either of them. These bills so amend the existing anti-trust statutes as to make the production of books and papers obligatory in trials of alleged combinations or pools and also deny exemption to witnesses on the ground that to testify would incriminate them.

Fewer bills came into the house Monday than during any other day of the session, there being but four of them. The total number is now, however, 890. One of those which came in Monday provides that the term of county assessors shall be four years, and that, excepting, as applies to St. Louis city, no assessor shall serve two succeeding terms. Another one provides that in all counties having 5,000 and less than 120,000 population the salary of the presiding judge of the county court shall be $1500 and of associate judges $1200.

The house defeated the Holcomb bill providing that county courts be furnished with names by political committees, from which lists election judges were to be chosen. The bill only provided for the furnishing of such lists by the two parties casting the highest and the next highest number of votes.

Ten more bills came into the house Thursday, making the total number 917. Mr. Huck introduced one providing that assessors should fix the value of property at 65 per cent of its true value in money at the time the assessment is taken.

though such testimony is not to be used in the prosecution of witnesses. The bills passed by the house are as follows:

Denying a witness or employee the right to refuse to produce books and to answer questions upon the ground that to do so would incriminate him. Prohibiting the formation of pools, trusts, combinations and agreements in restraint of trade and competition. Providing for the making of affidavits of officers and agents of corporations to the secretary of state, and penalty for either a false affidavit or failure to make affidavit.

Exempting witness from prosecution on account of any transaction or matter concerning which he may testify or produce books or papers. Making railroad transportation sold at full rates good until used.

Representative Hill offered a resolution in the house Thursday, asking for the appointment of a calendar committee, to be composed of one member from each congressional district. The calendar, at this time, is greatly congested, and most of the measures with which it is loaded down are of minor importance. The request for the committee comes a little late, as it was expected that it would be chosen when the other standing committees were named at the opening of the session.

The house indulged in much merriment Monday over the Staple's bill, prohibiting the manufacture or sale in this state of "pop" matches. The wits attacked it from all sides, and the amendments came pouring in which would have made the Fourth of July quiet as a graveyard to the small boy. They prohibited the manufacturer or sale of firecrackers, skyrockets, toy pistols and "nigger chasers." After all these had been adopted and the house had listened to the reading of letters from insurance companies indorsing the measure, the bill was refused engrossment.

The house devoted considerable time to the discussion of the Simmons bill, in relation to the weighing and inspection of grain, which was up for engrossment. It was placed on the calendar by a vote of 61 to 30. Representative Heathman led the fight for the bill, while Representatives Catlin and Halter, both of St. Louis, conducted the fight for the opposition.

SENATE.

The senate passed the Humphrey bill placing trust companies under the general banking laws of the state. The bill went through as amended, according to agreement between the author of the measure and the representatives of the trust companies of St. Louis and Kansas City. The bill has also been incorporated in the general banking bill establishing the state banking department. The latter will not be effective, if passed, until January 15, 1909, while the Humphrey bill will be in effect ninety days after the close of the session.

In the senate the Bauman gas inspection bill was reported from the committee on criminal jurisprudence, with an unfavorable recommendation, and on motion of Senator Bauman the bill was taken up and indefinitely postponed.

On motion of Senator Wornall, the bill which passed the house some days ago, and was reported favorably from a senate committee, was made a special order for next Wednesday morning. The measure is one affecting all the great railroads doing business between points in this state which are not incorporated under the laws of the state.

Only two bills were passed in the senate during Monday. One of these is an amendment to the Wamsley game and fish law, prepared by Senator Fields, making clear the much-mooted provision of that act relative to licenses to be required to hunt in one's home county. The Fields bill, passed Monday, specifically provides that no license is necessary to hunt in the county in which a citizen resides. The other bill passed was a local act changing the time of holding court in Stoddard county.

New bills in the senate include one by Senator Kinney, providing a stenographer for the court of criminal correction in St. Louis; by Mr. Gilmore, amending the law relating to mutual insurance companies; by Mr. Kammerer, increasing the office force of the circuit attorney of St. Louis by providing for another assistant and another deputy.

After several weeks of hard work the senate committee on agriculture, roads and highways had agreed upon a series of five measures, each in a way supplementary to the other, but yet so constructed that each will be applicable, in the event of the failure of the others to become laws. As a companion piece the committee will also recommend the passage of a constitutional amendment creating a road fund by imposing a tax of 10 cents on the $100 valuation. This would create a road fund of something like $1,250,000 annually on the basis of an assessed valuation of $1,250,000,000 in the state, which is approximately the assessed valuation of the state at this time.

The bill provides that the weighing and inspection of grain now being conducted by the boards of trade in St. Louis, Kansas City, and St. Joseph, be transferred to the state department. In the discussion there were charges and counter charges of graft, the opponents of the bill alleging that it was a scheme of the state board of railroad and warehouse commissioners to enlarge its patronage, and friends of the measure retorted that the boards of trade were registering its passage because it would deprive them of a continuance of swindling on a petty scale.

A bill introduced by Senator Farris increasing the pay of the docket clerks of the senate and house and the doorkeepers of the two bodies from $3.50 to $5.00 per day was passed by the senate.

Among the bills passed in the senate were the following: By Mr. Pruders, governing the use of staves, hoists and scaffolding in the construction of new buildings; by Mr. Humphrey, providing for the inspection of coal mines in which there is explosive gas, the latter being a measure agreed upon by both mine owners and miners.

Typical Soldier of Fortune. Though many of the descendants of the illustrious Edgar Allan Poe inherit some of his illustrious instincts, it is probably more marked in the case of "Johnnie" Poe, who can well be styled a typical soldier of fortune. Mr. Poe belonged to the great Fifth Regiment of Baltimore and served during the war with Spain, after which he went to the Philippines, where he was offered a commission for efficient work.

For the second time, however, he refused the honor and remained a private. At the expiration of his term he came back to this country and wandered to the famous Death valley and from there to the Tonopah district, from which he was lured in the late fall by the call of the gridiron.

VERY BAD FORM OF ECZEMA. Suffered Three Years—Physicians Did No Good—Perfectly Well After Using Cuticura Remedies.

"I take great pleasure in informing you that I was a sufferer of eczema in a very bad form for the past three years. I consulted and treated with a number of physicians in Chicago, but to no avail. I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, three months ago, and to-day I am perfectly well, the disease having left me entirely. I cannot recommend the Cuticura Remedies too highly to any one suffering with the disease that I have had. Mrs. Florence E. Atwood, 18 Crilly Place, Chicago, Ill., October 2, 1905. Witness: L. S. Danger in Salt Baths. Salt water, so strengthening ordinarily, is most weakening when too warm. On most ocean boats there is an abundance of warm water in the bathrooms, and the daily salt bath is a great tonic, but beware of getting it too hot. It will turn you faint if you do, even if you are accustomed to an equally high temperature in fresh water at home.—Travel Magazine.

AILING WOMEN

How Many Perfectly Well Women Do You Know?

MISS GRACE E. MILLER. MRS. W. S. FORD

"I am not feeling very well." "I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly." "My back aches as though it would break."

How often do you hear these significant expressions from women and friends. More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and there is a cause.

More than thirty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. discovered the source of nearly all the suffering endured by her sex. "Woman's Ills," these two words are full of other words that can be found in the English language. Sudden fainting, depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere, backaches, headaches, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down sensations, displacements and irregularities are the bane of woman's existence.

The same woman who discovered the cause of all this misery also discovered a remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs holds the record for a greater number of absolute cures of female ills than any other one remedy the world has ever known and it is the greatest blessing which ever came into the lives of suffering women.

Don't try to endure, but cure the cause of all your suffering. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Poetess Highly Honored. Mile. Andre Cortis, whose poems in the volume entitled "Gemmae et Moires" have won high praise, has been chosen poet laureate of France for the year past. The honor is one conferred annually by a vote of eminent literary people on the most distinguished poet of the year. Mile. Cortis is still a young woman.

Farm Land. Do you know that good level farm land, especially adapted to the Dry Farming System of Cultivation, can be bought on easy terms, along the lines of the Burlington Route, in western Nebraska, northwestern Kansas, and northeastern Colorado for little more than it costs to rent land east of the Missouri River? If not, let me tell you about it.

Germany's Beet Sugar. The production of beet sugar in the German empire in 1906 is estimated by the International Sugar Statistical association to be 2,157,200 metric tons (2,204.6 pounds each), against 2,394,445 metric tons in 1905, a loss of nearly ten per cent. Austria-Hungary's beet sugar crop is 11 per cent. short.

With a smooth iron and Defiance Starch, you can launder your shirtwaist just as well at home as the steam laundry can; it will have the proper stiffness and finish, there will be less wear and tear of the goods, and it will be a positive pleasure to use a Starch that does not stick to the iron.

French Vineyards. The vineyard area of France in 1906 was 4,195,500 acres yielding a wine production of 1,375,774,921 gallons. Production has steadily increased since 1900, when it was 1,779,267,569 gallons.
